ABOUT TURNING THE OTHER CHEEK.

The discussion in the senate over the confirmation of Murat Halstead as minister to Germany brings to mind some of the things that the Ohio editor has said of several members of the United States senate whose friendship he now craves and whose votes he pleads for that he may not be humiliated before the country by being defeated as to his confirmation. We find in the Evening Wisconsin a reprint of a portion of an editorial written by Mr. Halstead on the 24th of July, 1886, and published in the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, regarding the republican senators who voted against the Payne investigation. The paragraph reads as follows: —

It was a sickening spectacle, and the only relief is found in the thought that perhaps it has come in time to suggest to the nation that an administration conducted by such men will not be wanted by an honest people. The black list entire is Cameron, Chace, Cullom, Evarts, Ingalls, Jones, Logan, Miller, Plumb, Riddleberger, Sawyer, Sewell, Teller, Van Wyck. To classify in a single sentence: It is made up of millionaires, servants of corporations, Logan men and corruptionists. There was not a vote cast that was actuated by the slightest regard for the honor of the Senate or of purity in politics. Each man should be turned in effigy on every cross-road in Ohio.

It would be difficult to employ the English language in a more outrageous way than this in attacking the motives and repudiations of honorable men. There was certainly no excuse for such scurrility and recklessness as this. But this was Halstead's style, and in this manner did he write of Lincoln, of Grant, of Sherman, and of Garfield. He has been as unprincipled in journalism as a bushwhacker is in war. He wants to write with ink that will poison and to stab with a knife that will sink to the hilt; and then he wants the persons defamed to turn the other cheek and not to think that he poisons or stabs in malice!

Senator Sherman pleaded with his brother senators that they would not think that Murat Halstead meant anything wrong when he called Cameron Chace, Cullom, Ingalls, Logan, Miller, Sawyer and others, corruptionists—thieves and scoundrels, and so on. He tried to make the injuried senators believe that Halstead is a generous man, of kindly instincts, of splendid motives, and carries with him a magnanimous spirit, and that if he has plunged the knife a little too deep in his work of trying to assassinate their character, he graciously forgives the senators who have been the objects of his merciless attacks! But the senators do not seem to appreciate Halstead's forgiving spirit.

It is hardly likely that the senate will confirm the erratic editor. It requires a wonderful amount of love or charity for an enemy, for the senators to vote for a man who called them boodlers and corruptionists and advised the people of Ohio to burn them in effigy at every cross-road in the state. It is said that Senator Sawyer, whose spirit is always on the side of mercy, was magnanemous enough to forgive Halstead, and voted for his confirmation. But the other senators are not likely to act in this matter on the principle of "bless them that curse you."

It would not be bearing malice toward Murat Halstead to say that he should not be confirmed. A man who will time after time deliberately attempt to destroy the reputations of honorable public men, should not represent the United States in any foreign court.

DEMOCRATIC PRAISE FOR A REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION.

The few people who know what the American Minister to the court of St. James will be called upon to say he (Mr. Lincoln) is just the man for the work. Mr. Lincoln is a good lawyer, a man of pleasant address and manner, and not lacking in the qualities of a diplomat, besides which his name would be an "open sesame" with thousands of Englishmen of all classes. As Prof. Smith says, it isn't so much a question of law as it is of friction, and Mr. Lincoln would be a good man to remove that friction. The state department would supply him with all the law and treaties, and he could do the rest. For the same reason Chauncey M. Depew was considered an excellent selection, as the man wanted just now to conduct these negotiations must be able to effect more because of his personality and because the English officials like him than because he has a great case behind him.—Boston Globe (dem.)

The spirit of the democratic press, by that we mean the newspapers of the large cities, is exceedingly fair toward President Harrison as touching his appointments to important offices, and especially do these papers praise him for the excellent selections he has made for the missions in foreign countries. The paragraph from the Boston Globe, an intensely partisan democratic paper, is but the sentiment of very many democratic journals as to all the nominations President Harrison has made for United States ministers.

Among the endorsements from democratic papers none are more cordial than that of the Louisville Courier Journal. It is a representative southern paper, extremely democratic, and yet its spirit is one of great honor. It is worth while in times like these, when party prejudice is deeply set, to take note of such independent and creditable utterances as come from such papers as the Globe and the Courier Journal. The latter paper says that the president has impressed the country with the idea that he is a clear-headed man, working with great intelligence within his own party lines. It then handsomely endorses the selection of Lincoln and Grant for St. James and Vienna respectively; and it likewise pays a fitting tribute to the president's good sense in appointing Whitelaw Reid, John C. New, Allen Thorndyke Rice, and others to important foreign positions. It then says: "The rest of the appointments are all in the same line, particularly that of Patrick Egan, which at this moment must be gratifying to the Irish on both sides of the water."

Times are certainly improving, or rather democratic editors are reforming, when so prominent a democrat as Henry Watterson will conclude such an editorial with a paragraph like this:

It costs us nothing to say these things. The contest between the democratic and republican parties four years hence will turn upon irreconcilable antogonisms of opinion. In the meantime, it is an interest to all men to have the business of the country—particularly our representatives abroad—in the hands of capable and good men, and it can never be the interest of any party to raise false personal issues, or deny politically that measure of justice which, socially, no one would think of withholding. All the appointments we have named are, individually, excellent, and, from a purely partisan standpoint, made with admirable discernment and keen foresight.

THE CO-EMPLOYE BILL.

There has been much discussion over the co-employe bill which has been before the assembly for some time. A strong effort has been made to increase the responsibility of railway companies as to the injuries received on their roads by employes, and to reach this point a bill was introduced early in the session. The bill did not meet the approval of the railway committee, neither did it seem to agree with the sentiment which generally prevailed in the legislature. The railway committee, therefore, presented a substitute bill which reads as follows:

Every railroad corporation doing business in this state shall be liable for damage sustained by any employe thereof within the state without contributory negligence on his part, when such damage is caused by the negligence of any train dispatcher, telegraph operator, superintendent, yardmaster, conductor or engineer, or anyother employe who has charge or control of any stationary, signal, target point, block or switch.

This substitute, in the judgment of the committee, draws the line in a spirit of justice to both sides, and was ordered to a third reading by a vote of 75 to 3. The firmness of the assembly in adhering to the spirit of the railway committee substitute can be seen in the fact that before it was adopted an effort was made to introduce the original Winans bill as an amendment, but the effort was defeated by a vote of 52 to 8.

William E. Curtis, writing from Washington to the Chicago News, says: The members of congress who are here trying to "to turn the rascals out" are considerably mystified over the conduct of Brother Wanamaker. In some cases he has made removals upon oral requests without asking for charges or even requiring a letter or a petition. The congressmen have simply told him that they wanted John Doe removed and Richard Roe appointed. In other cases he has asked for specific charges of incompetency or odious partisanship; has required the congressman to say in writing that the postmaster has made himself offensive to the patrons of the office; that he neglected his duties to do political work, or has used his official influence for political purposes, and even then he has taken the papers under advisement. When asked for an explanation of this discrimination Mr. Wanamaker said yesterday: "We can't post up any rule about these removals. We must let every tub stand on its own bottom. A rule that would apply to one case might not fit another."

The mail from Japan brings an account of the graduation exercises of the Japan-English law school at Tokio, which recently took place. The American minister to Japan delivered the address to the graduates in English, and gave the history of this school, which was founded only four years ago. It furnishes some interesting statistics. In 1886 there were four graduates, in 1887 eighteen, and in 1888 fifty-one. In 1885 the number of regular students was was 340; in 1888, 1,406, with 3,123 subscribers to the lecture course. In 1887 142,500 copies of the printed law lectures were sent out to the non-attending lecture course class. The library, which is accessible to all students, consists of 14,930 foreign and 4 194 Japanese law books, or a total of 19,124 volumes, being one of the best equipped law libraries in the world.

The press throught the country is loudly applauding President Harrison's foreign appointments. In this regard the democratic papers of note are behaving themselves handsomely.

There is more local politics to the square inch in the Chicago papers this spring than ever before known. It is a big fight in Chicago, and there will be a big republican victory.

SIX MEN-OF-WAR LOST.

NEARLY 150 GERMAN AND AMERICAN SEAMEN PERISH.

The Nipsic, Trenton, and Vandalia, and the Adler, Olga, and Eber Wrecked at Samoa—Other Casualties.

AUCKLAND, March 30.—Dispatches from Samoa state that the American men-of-war, Trenton, Vandalia, and Nipsic, and the German men-of-war Adler, Olga, and Eber were driven on a reef during a violent storm and totally wrecked.

Of the American crews four officers and forty-six men were drowned, and of the German crews nine officers and eighty-seven men lost their lives.

LONDON, March 30.—Advices have been received from Samoa to the effect that in a terrific hurricane the three American and four German men-of-war were wrecked, and that many persons were drowned.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The cablegrams in reference to the reported wrecking of the three American men-of-war at Samoa were sent to Secretary Tracy at the Arno at an early hour this morning, and he sent down word that he had no information on the subject.

Commander Dennis W. Mullan, the commander of the Nipsic, was ordered to that duty Oct. 1, 1887. He entered the service Sept. 20, 1860, was promoted to ensign in October, 1863, to master in October, 1866, to lieutenant in February, 1867, lieutenant-commander in March, 1868, and to his present grade in July, 1882. This was his first command in the new grade, as, owing to some troube with the navy department officials, he was kept off duty for over four years. Commander Mullan, while not regarded as one of the brilliant men of the navy, was a good fighting officer. He was a native of Massachusetts and was of Irish parentage.

The executive officer of the Nipsic in the absence of Lieut. Hawley was Richard G. Davenport, or, as he is better known in the service, "Dick" Davenport. His reputation as a first-class officer in every respect was vouched for by all the navy people here. He was a son of the late Capt. Davenport of the navy, who was one of the most distinguished naval officers of the late war and who commanded the Congress during the battle of Mobile bay.

The other officers attached to the Nipsic were Lieut. John R. Shearman of New York, Ensigns William P. White, John L. Purcell, Harry Field, and Harry Jones, Passed Assistant Surgeon E. Z. Derr, Passed Assistant Paymaster John Corwin, Chief Engineer George W. Hall, Passed Assistant Engineer Horace E. Frick, and First Lieutenant of Marines L. Glover Fillette.

The complement of the Nipsic was 174 marines and blue jackets, although some of her short-time men were sent home from Samoa when the Adams left for San Francisco in January last.

The Nipsic was a wooden vessel and was built in 1873. After two cruises she was rebuilt at the navy yard, Washington, in 1879. She was bark-rigged, 185 feet long and 35 feet beam. Her displacement was 1,375 tons and indicated a speed of ten knots. Her battery consisted of one eight-inch muzzle-loading rifle, four nine-inch smooth bores, one sixty-pound breech-loading rifle, converted Parrot, which was located on the forecastle. In the secondary battery one three-inch rifled Howitzer, one twelve-pounder, and one short Gatling gun. In addition to these there were sixty Hotchkiss rifles of the latest improved pattern in her armory besides the usual number of pistols and side arms allowed by regulation for vessels of the Nipsic class.

The Trenton and Vandalia were larger than the Nipsic. The Trenton was a ship-rigged wooden cruiser of ten guns and of 3,900 tons displacement. The Vandalia was also a bark-rigged wooden cruiser of 2,100 tons, with a battery of eight guns, mostly smooth bores.

As far as known the Olga was the most formidable of the German vessels at Apia. She was an unarmored and unprotected, single-decked cruiser of 2,300 tons displacement and was built in 1880. Her principal battery consisted of eight 6-inch Krupp rifles and a number of Hotchkiss revolving cannon. It is thought at the navy department that she carried about a half-dozen Schwartz-Koff torpedoes, which are similar to the Whitehead torpedos in that they are projected from tubes beneath the water line.

The speed of the Olga was somewhat superior to that of the Vandalia, her maximum trial speed having been fourteen.

The Adler and Eber were not as large or as strong as the Olga, the Adler carrying four and the Eder three Krupp rifles. The great strength of the German fleet lay in its possession of torpedoes.

Fire in Alton's City Hall.

ALTON, Ill., March 30.—A disastrous conflagration occurred in this city Friday morning, whereby the time-honored city hall was rendered almost a ruin. The building, besides being occupied by the city offices, contains the postoffice and the public library. The contents of the postoffice and library were all saved and the mails were only delayed for a few hours on account of the disaster. The upper part of the building, however, was badly burned and the opera house in the third story is a total ruin. The damage from fire and water will amount to $10,000, which is covered by insurance.

Killed in a Railway Wreck.

MOBERLY, Mo., March 30.—Two Moberly men were killed and two others injured in a wreck on th Ottumwa division of the Wabash Western railway last night. The killed are John Arthur, engineer, and William Chamberlain, fireman. Charles Hisle, mail agent, had his back injured, and W. L. Skinner, express messenger, had a leg badly bruised. No passengers were hurt. The wrecked train was No. 8, the St. Paul and St. Louis express, which went through a bridge near Queen City, Mo. The piling had been burned out during the night and the engine and three coaches were piled up in the ditch.

The Albert Russell Lost.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., March 30.—Letters from Capt. Dunham of the whaling schooner William A. Grosier at St. Vincent, West Indies, say that on Feb. 24 she sighted a wreck which proved to be the Boston bark Albert Russell from Australia. She rescued two sailors who had been on the wreck thirteen days, the rest of the crew, together with the captain's wife and two little girl's being all lost. The rescued sailors' supply of food consisted of four cans of lobsters, four cans of milk, and what rain they could catch. One will probably die.

A Block of Five Stores Burned.

MAYSVILLE, Mich., March 30.—A fire, which originated at midnight in the lodge-room of a local organization, destroyed a block of five stores. The loss is $12,000; the insurance unknown.

Burned Four Persons Alive.

HUNTINGDON, Tenn., March 30.—The people in the Hollow Rock neighborhood, where four of the Flowers family were cremated alive a week ago, suspect John Knowles of the foul deed. It is known that Knowles had been trying to persuade Flowers' wife to elope with him for some time, and Monday before the burning he became very desperate in his entreaties and offered to put Flowers out of the way.

$400,000 GONE.

A Handsome Warehouse and Its Contents Destroyed by Fire.

CHICAGO, March 30.—The north half of E. W. Blatchford's new and handsome six-story and basement brick building, reaching from No. 52 to 62 North Clinton street, was almost totally destroyed by fire early Friday evening. The building, which has an entire frontage of 175 feet on Clinton street, reaching back 160 feet to an alley, was one of the best and handsomest buildings of the kind in the city. It was erected a year ago last fall by Mr. Blatchford for the Parish Manufacturing company, who moved out six months since. The whole building cost $100,000 when new, and Mr. N. H. Blatchford, the brother of E. W. Blatchford, who is at present in Europe, stated that $60,000 would fully cover all damages to the burned portion of the building, fully covered by insurance.

The principal loss was sustained by S. A. Maxwell & Co., stationers, at Nos. 132 and 134 Wabash avenue. The firm occupied the fourth, fifth, and sixth floors as warerooms for wall paper and stationery, and and their loss will reach $250,000.

The Royal Stock Feed company, on the first floor, and the Chicago Watch Case company, on the second floor were a total loss. The John B. Starr Mirror company on the second floor was also completely destroyed, entailing a loss of about $10,000. John H. Hair, who occupied part of the third floor for manufacturing hotel registers, is quite a heavy loser. His loss will reach over $10,000. The Danville Stove company had a large number of ranges and heating stoves in stock, and the damage, chiefly caused by water, can not be estimated at this writing. It is learned, however, that the company, as well as all the other occupants of the building, were fully insured. The total loss is $400,000.

TO THE PUBLIC

I have just completed at great expense, one of the celebrated JACKSON DRY COLD STORAGE HOUSES. When I commenced the building I expected to use the entire space myself, but other business will take my time until July 1st. I have decided to rent this season one-half the capacity of the building, represented by 9 compartments, each capable of holding 250 cases of 30 dozen each. I am satisfied that an investment of $850—$100 storage charges and 7500 dozen eggs at 10 cents will pay at least 75 per cent. net on the investment. The building contains over 600 tons of ice, which will maintain a temperature of 35 to 37 degrees during the warmest weather. Below find testimonials from houses using the Jackson Dry Cold Storage:

Kent Co-operative Store Association.
Kent, Ohio, Oct. 17th, 1888.
THE JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO, ILL.
Gentlemen: Having had in constant use for the past two seasons one of your Cold Storage Houses, we wish to say that it has given entire satisfaction. Its preserving powers are perfect and in no instance have we met with loss of stock stored in it its most commendable features being the good circulation and entire freedom from moisture and dampness; no evidence of sweating having been perceived, the ceilings and side walls always being dry. We can cheerfully recommend your Cooling Room to any parties whose business requires the use of Cold Storage. Yours respectfully,
KENT CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION,

JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO, ILL.:
Gentlemen: In reply to yours of the 13th, inst. will say that our Cold Storage building erected by you gives us the very best of satisfaction, both in the storing of of Eggs and Butter and also perishable goods of every description, and we can heartily recommend it to any one needing such a building. It is the wonderment of every one in this section of the country.
Yours truly,

Hornellsville, N. Y., October 17th, 1888.
JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO, ILLS.
Dear Sirs: I have used one of your Refrigerators for two seasons and am well pleased with the results. I have kept eggs six months and taken them out in fine condition. Butter, if put in good condition, will keep a year. As to storing fruit, it is a perfect success. I now have evergreen sweet corn that has been in six weeks, and I think it is as good as when it was put in. Respectfully,
E. D. TUTTLE.

Marvin & Cammack, Proprietors of the Cresent Creameries, and Jobbers of Butter, Cheese and Eggs.
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 3d, 1888.
JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO, ILL.
Gentlemen: This is to certify that we have been using a 40 car load refrigerator store house, refrigerated on the Jackson plan for the past three years, with exceedingly satisfactory results. We have been able to carry eggs in this storage from May until January or February of the winter following in perfect condition. These eggs being packed in new white wood cases, with excelsor packing, and the cases are not moved or disturbed from May until such a time as the eggs are required for use in the fall or the winter. June butter has kept in this storage in perfect condition nearly a year, and we carried a barrel of potatoes in one of the rooms two years without any loss from decay, and at the end of this time the potatoes were as firm and perfect as when placed in the storage. The storage is easily managed and is fairly economical in its consumption of ice, and the ventilation and dryness seem perfect.
Very Respectfully, MARVIN & CAMMACK.

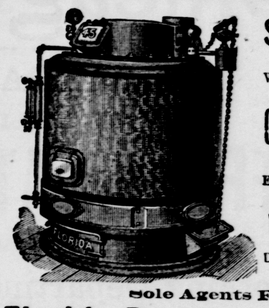

Elkland Creamery, B. H. Parkhurst, Proprietor.
Elkland, Pa., October 19th, 1888.
THE JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO, ILL.
Gentlemen: The Cold Storage Building I commenced last spring was completed and filled with ice in May. I use it in connection with my creamery for storing butter, and can show June butter apparently as fresh as when it was put in. I also put in a crate of eggs during the summer as an experiment; I examined them recently and found they were keeping perfectly. The room is dry and cold, and with only the warm air flues open, had no trouble to keep it at a temperature of 35 to 38 degrees during the warmest weather. Your plan is a success, and I do not know where it could be in any way improved. Yours truly,
B. H. PARKHURST.

A BOLD ROBBER'S CRIME.

HE FORCES A BANK PRESIDENT TO GIVE UP $21,000.

At a Pistol's Point the Banker Draws the Funds on His Check and Turns Them Over—Crimes.

DENVER, Colo., March 30.—The boldest and most successful bank robbery ever reported in the West was perpetrated upon the First National bank at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, by which the robber succeeded in getting away with $21,000. The cashier of the bank, a few minutes after the robbery, gave the following account of the affair:

"Thursday morning, immediately after the opening of the bank, a well-dressed man with light mustache and complexion, and of medium height, walked into the bank and asked the assistant cashier, Ross Lewin, where he could see Mr. Moffatt, the president of the bank. Ross Lewin informed him that he could see Mr. Moffatt, who is also president of the Denver & Rio Grande railway, at the president's office in the Cheesman block.

"Nothing more was seen or heard of the stranger until Friday morning about 10 o'clock, when he entered the railway office and asked to see Mr. Moffatt on important business. He was admitted to his private room and briefly stated that he had discovered a conspiracy whereby the First National bank was to be robbed of a large amount of money. Mr. Moffatt told the man he was very busy at that moment but would be pleased to meet him at his private office in the bank at 1 o'clock. With this the man left the building.

A few minutes after the hour appointed he called at the bank and was shown into the president's office. Remaining standing, he inquired if the cashier, S. N. Wood, was in, and was told that he was at lunch. He then asked for a blank check for showing how the robbery would be perpetrated. The check was handed him. He laid it upon the desk in front of Mr. Moffatt and said: 'I will have to do this myself.' Pulling a large revolver from his coat he placed it at Mr. Moffatt's head, and in a decided earnest but excited manner said: 'I want $21,000 and am going to have it; I have considered this matter and the chances I am running and the consequences if I fail and am arrested. I am a penniless and desperate man, and have been driven during the last week to that point where I have considered suicide as the only means of escape from the poverty and misery in which I exist. You have millions. I am determined to have what I asked for or your life. If you make a noise, call a man, or ring a bell I will blow your brains out and then blow up the building and myself with this bottle of glycerine. [Which he at that moment pulled out of another pocket.] Now take your choice.'

"Mr. Moffatt started to argue with the man, but was stopped with the information that it was useless and that he had but two minutes in which to fill out the check before him for $21,000, if he desired to live. Mr. Moffatt, seeing no other alternative, filled out the check, and was then ordered to take it to the paying office, the man behind him with the revolver partially concealed under his overcoat and the muzzle almost against Moffatt's back, and marched behind the counter and up to the paying teller, Mr. Keeley, with the request that it be immediately cashed. They then remarched into Moffatt's office without attracting the attention of the fifteen or twenty clerks who were busy at work within two feet of where they passed.

"After they had remained in the private office three or four minutes the robber informed Mr. Moffatt that they were wasting time and that he had better step to the door and motion his teller to come to him, which he did. Mr. Moffatt instructed him to bring the money into his office, and as the teller turned to go away the robber told him he wanted twenty $1,000 bills and $1,000 in gold. The money was brought in and handed over to the gentleman who for a few brief moments had owned the bank.

"Waiting until the teller had reached his desk, he backed out to the front door, making Mr. Moffatt remain standing at his door until he had reached the curbstone. He then raised his hat and walked around the corner and has not yet been heard of."

Mr. Moffatt is completely prostrated with the shock. Detectives are out after the man, but no trace of him has been discovered.

The man who committed the robbery introduced himself to President Moffat as C. J. Wells. The name, however, was probably assumed.

A moment after the alarm was given by Mr. Moffatt a man started rapidly up Sixteenth street from the bank, followed by a crowd and several officers. He was followed to room 14 Hallock & Howard block, where he and two companions were arrested and taken to the station house. Mr. Moffatt arrived at police headquarters at 4 o'clock, and after glancing at the prisoner said he was not the man and he was immediately released. The prisoner proved to be a well known business man named Clark. The chief of police has offered $2,500 reward for the arrest of the robber. The excitement over the robbery is intense.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 30.—It has leaked out that A. B. Bull, until last week bookkeeper for Beach & Co., is a defaulter to the extent of at least $20,000. Bull was connected with some of the best families in the city, his wife being one of the leaders in Hartford society. Six years ago he had $50,000 left to him and a house in the fashionable portion of the city by his mother. Since he received his inheritance his family have lived in an expensive manner, and it has been common talk that their expenditures were far beyond their means. Some time ago Beach & Co., had an expert examine their books, but he could discover nothing wrong. Two weeks ago a discrepancy was discovered and Bull was asked to explain, He was unable to do so, but made a partial confession, and transferred all his remaining property, about $15,000 to the firm. Every effort owing to the high social position of the Bulls, but an advertisement by Beach & Co., offering Bull's property for sale led to its being made public.

HORRIBLE GALLOWS SCENE.

Five Officers Required to Overpower a Negro on the Scaffold.

DANVILLE, Va., March 30.—Jud Pritchett, who assaulted a small white girl near this place in June last, was hanged at Chatham Friday. He was a strong negro about 30 years old, and when the officers attempted to spring the trap on him he fought like a tiger. Four deputies were called to assist in the awful deed. The prisoner fell down and lay prostrate on the scaffold, clinging to the frame work. The trap was finally sprung and by main force the deputies pushed him off the scaffold after the rope had been tied around his neck. The struggles of the condemned man lasted fully eleven minutes. Under the new statute the body was shipped to the University of Virginia for dissection.

DESERTED THEIR POSTS.

A Garrison at Fort Cunningham, Bermuda, Escapes to Boston.

NEW YORK, March 30.—At last something definite has been heard concerning the members of the garrison of Fort Cunningham, Bermuda, who, as related last Monday, deserted in a body. The story of the desertion is still fresh.

Early in the morning of March 14 several soldiers from St. George's barracks started to relieve the guard at Fort Cunningham. To their surprise, upon reaching the place, they discovered that the fort was tenantless, the garrison having vanished to a man. The disappearance was a mystery, and the strictest search failed to discover the deserters. The Royal Mail ship Orinoco, which was then leaving port for New York, was searched after she had reached the offing, but the fugitives were not on board. It was finally concluded that they had been shipped by a Dutch ship, the Gebroeder Smit, which left St. George's harbor earlier in the morning in tow of the tug J. G. Merritt of New York. This conclusion has proved correct. The entire guard, numbering twelve persons, boarded the ship, but five deserted her before she left port and took passage on an Italian bark which had weighed anchor and was proceeding out of the harbor. Seven remained on board the Smit and worked their passage to Boston.

Detroit Brewers Ready to Sell.

DETROIT, Mich., March 30.—The English brewery syndicate seems to have been at work very quietly in this city for the last few days, but results are coming to the surface. It is reported that E. W. Voigt, the largest brewer in Detroit, who makes 40,000 barrels of beer annually, has agreed to sell for $850,000. He left for Europe last week, and will visit London and inquire into the manner in which the great breweries of that city are managed. Michenfelder & Co., Charles Endriass, Jacob Mann & Co. and Goebel & Co. have also given prices at which they will sell breweries, the aggregate amount being $500,000. This is the extent of the operations of the English syndicate in Detroit up to this time. The bargain in each case includes the agreement of the brewer to take one-third of the purchase price in shares of the company, and to manage the brewery for three years, for which he receives a salary.

Expand the Mind.
By seeing as much as you can of the world. But ere you set out either as a tourist, commercial traveler or emigrant—whether you go by rail, steamship or steamboat, provide yourself with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which the traveling public recognize as the finest medical safeguard and preventitive of sea sickness with which any one journeying by land or water can be provided. It furnishes to the western pioneer adequate protection against malaria, rheumatism, and those disorders of the bowels which miasma tainted water beget. Its sedative effect upon a stomach perturbed by the rocking of a ship is truly magical, and it is a capital appetizer and nerve invigorator. Excellent is it for biliousness and kidney inaction, and it counteracts, in a remarkable degree, the effects of fatigue, physical or mental. After wetting and exposure in inclement weather, it should be used as a preventive.

THERE IS NO ONE ARTICLE IN THE LINE of medicines that gives so larges return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed Belladonna Backache Plasters.

THE worst features about dangerous soaps is the damage done before their injurious effects are detected. The injury done to clothing by the use of poor soap is often greater than the actual wear. Professor Cornwall, of Princeton College, says the IVORY SOAP is pure. His statement should be sufficient guarantee for you to have only the IVORY SOAP used in your family.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

TRADE MARK
OVER-WORK.

Office of the High Court of Illinois Catholic Order Forresters, 126 and 128 Washington Street.
CHICAGO, Oct. 11th, 1887.

REV. E. KOENIG: Dear Sir:—I deem it a duty I owe you to certify to the good effect the taking of your medicine had on my health. I was troubled with nervousness brought on by overwork. Your Nerve Tonic almost immediately stopped that peculiar tremor that I presume, is evidence of nervousness. I am now well. My head troubled me, could not sleep, head hot, dreams of accidents, etc. One spoonful of your medicine removed the cause of my dreams; have not had them since; took seven or eight bottles of your medicine. Keep some in my house; always take some occasionally; would not be without it; have recommended it to my friends. If I am not mistaken your medicine will prove a great blessing to this over-worked nation. Yours truly,
JNO. F. SCANLAN, H. C. R.

A similar experience was made by Mr. John Beatty, Corner Carroll Avenue and Lincoln Street, Chicago.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

GOSSIP ABOUT FASHIONS

THE female creature reared in civilization never takes real, genuine, free-hearted, utter satisfaction and joy out of her gowning after the gowns have descended much below her knees. She becomes a woman apace as her dresses near the floor and in the same proportion do the dresses become fierce questions of how and how much? Is it becoming? Does it make me better looking than So-and-so's dress makes her? Does it show how much a yard it cost? That question is equally momentous whether it cost fifty dollars a yard and you wish the world to know it, or fifty cents and you wish to conceal the fact. Does it suit your hair, eyes and skin? Can you pay for it? Is it worth the money? Oh, a thousand such questions are dragged around in the train of many a dress. Obviously, Miss Twelve-year-old's frock has no train. When you are "grown up" it is a miserable bore to devise something new. Elise cheats you horribly, and you know it. Therefore, although your bank account may be even longer than your last train, you can't get over a dull sense of irritation. None of these bothers jingle discordant from the adornments of Miss Twelve-year-old's get up. She hasn't thought a bit about the making or the cost of the thing, but, if she has had nothing to do with it before it was ready for her slip of a figure, once arrayed in it, all the joy of it enters her soul. She does not even think whether it's becoming. That question, which has cankered many a "bud" in the swellest of swell gowns, does not occur to the child. The dress is "new," that is the great thing.

Maybe since Maude wore a frilled bib and Bobby a plain one the girl has been accustomed to think of clothes as sources of more or less unmitigated joy; but certain it is that a "new dress" recreates the romping Monday school-girl into a ladylike, daintily dignified bit of plushed up femininity. Envy her, ye belles of longer standing. Put that desperate little tomboy Madelaine (long names are the fashion now) into a deep turquoise velvet coat like the one in the first picture, the front and inner sleeve closely gathered deep cream satin; outline the velvet with black fur; let the brim of the hat be of fur, the crown yellow leather, and, if you like, the shoes yellow leather, although they will probably look less well practically than in the picture; leave her madcap hair in its own golden wealth over the blue plush shoulders. Behold! the tomboy is tamed—while she is taken for the walk, anyhow. Oh, these women!

Children are always sure their dress is nicer than any one's else. Grown-up folks are gnawed by a suspicion that every other garment is prettier than their own.

Witness these self-satisfied cousins, and a presentable pair they make. One is in tan felt and brown velvet. The other is in brown velvet and tan felt. One with a black fur or seal muff and fixings, and the other with fluffy yellow fur. An observer would be at a loss to decide which was the handsomer. But each youngster regards the other with a contempt born of serene confidence in her own superiority. Just a word in your ear. Avoid the calamitous necessity of light stockings in one case by putting high leggins on each of the children—velvet for one, tan leather for the other. Let the costumes in the group of youngsters speak for the children's comfort when they don't want to be swells. The loose waists and large sleeves leave them free to strain as high as they please for whatever it is that the boy is standing so poor a chance of getting.

Spring ...

CLOTHES FOR PLAY.

that; but the fastidious belle, finding her winter wraps a little tiresome and shabby, may make the early spring an excuse for a new one. One that shall be quite as warm as the discarded winter cloak, for early spring winds are chilly, and it won't do to have one's nose getting red or blue. But make it in some light-colored stuff—a steel-blue broadcloth, well lined, for instance, with a steel-velvet collar. The sleeves are of that steely shade of blue plush that takes the light so charmingly. Thistles embroidered in natural colors on this garment will be most effective. But, beware! oh, beware! if ever the keen air nips you into anything like a frost-bitten look. Your complexion will, unless it is just the right tint, have a mackerel-on-ice tendency. Forgive me for making this brave experiment, which on a warmly colored, clear-skinned girl will be a great success; and do the stylish garment in rich, deep-green plush, with light sage-green felt or cloaking cloth. The velvet about the throat and brim of the hat will give the needed relief to the skin. You wonder what the pretty maiden has on her feet. Russet shoes. The lower parts are cut quite like a slipper, and the upper undressed kid is of a shade to match the plush of the coat. A very good idea. So may one get the dainty effect of a slipper without contracting at the same time for pneumonia, etc., etc.—meaning a great deal.

A threatened horror of the spring is the long, loose veil, which makes me feel positively ill when I think of it. Nothing can be more uncomfortable, or more injurious to the sight, than a thing floating and waving about before the wearer's eyes; and it is certainly not to be recommended for appearance, having a helpless, untidy, lackadaisiacal air, suggestive of an old Book of Beauty. Short veils are really necessary—to keep the hair from being blown about, to protect the more sensitive parts of the face and to intercept the irrepressible smut; but it is far more wholesome and agreeable not to let them cover the mouth, as net or lace quickly becomes moistened, and the possibly poisonous and unquestionably offensive dyes and dressings it contains are regularly inhaled with every breath.

Merit wins

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. MET A SCHOOL OF WHALES.

Strange Experience of a Baltimore Captain Off the Atlantic Coast.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30.—Capt. Samuel Pedrick of the schooner James H. Gordon, which arrived yesterday from Charleston, reports that on the 24th of March, when about seventy-five miles east southeast of Cape Henry, he met a school of whales.

The animals came so close to the vessel that pieces of wood were easily dropped on their backs. This reception they acknowledged by squirting fountains of water into the air. At one time the sea appeared like a mass of confused fire, on account of the gambolings of the creatures. All that night the mighty animals played around the vessel At 6:30 o'clock on the morning of the 25th inst. the Gordon suddenly felt a shock. Looking over the bow the captain saw that the vessel had struck a monster whale. The water was discolored and bloody. The whales disappeared from about the vessel shortly after the collision. Capt. Pedrick is confident that there were 100 in the school, all of which the first mate, an old whaler, says were sperm whales. It is supposed that they were attracted in shore by following the schools of mackerel now off the coast.

OUR LITTLE SON,

Four years old, afflicted with a painful skin disease. Six doctors tried to cure him and failed. Got worse. Completely cured by one set of Cuticura Remedies, costing $1.75.

Our little son will be four years of age on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful breaking out of the skin. We called in a physician, who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as the breaking out, supposed by the physician to be hives in an aggravated form, became larger, in blotches and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night and rub him with soda in water, strong liniments, etc. Finally, we called other physicians, until no less than six had attempted to cure him, all alike failing, and the child steadily getting worse, until about the 20th of last July, when we began to give him Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and by the last of August he was so nearly well that we gave him only one dose of the Resolvent about every second day for about ten days longer, and he has never been troubled since with the horrible malady. In all we used less than one-half of a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a little less than one box of Cuticura, and only one cake of Cuticura Soap.

Choking Catarrh

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the langor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressed influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure

The remarkable curative powers when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references.

Each packet contains one bottle of the Radical cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and an Improved Inhaler with treatise and directions, and is sold by the all druggists for $1.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE

JANESVILLE, - - WISCONSIN

TO MONTANA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON.

If you are going west bear in mind the following facts: The Northern Pacific Railroad owns and operates 987 miles, or 57 per cent. of the entire railroad mileage of Montana; spans the territory with its main lines from east to west; is the short line to Helena; the only Pullman and dining car line to Butte, and is the only line that reaches Miles City, Billings, Bozeman, Missoula, the Yellowstone National Park and, in fact, nine tenths of the cities and points of interest in the territory.

The Northern Pacific owns and operates 621 miles or 56 per cent of the railroad mileage of Washington, its main line extending from the Idaho line via Spokane Falls, Cheney, Sprague Yakima and Ellensburg, through the center of the territory to Tacoma and Seattle and from Tacoma to Portland. No other transcontinental through rail line reaches any portion of Washington Territory Ten days stop over privileges are given on Northern Pacific second class tickets at Spokane Falls and all points west, thus affording intending settlers an excellent opportunity to see the entire territory without incurring the expense of paying local fares from point to point.

The Northern Pacific is the shortest route from St. Paul to Tacoma by 207 miles; to Seattle by 177 miles, and to Portland by 324 miles—time correspondingly shorter, varying from one to two days, according to destination. No other line from St. Paul or Minneapolis runs through passenger cars of any kind into Idaho, Oregon or Washington.

In addition to being the only rail line to Spokane Falls, Tacoma and Seattle, the Northern Pacific reaches all the principal points in Northern Minnesota and Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Bear in mind that the Northern Pacific and Shasta line is the scenic route to all points in California.

Send for illustrated pamphlets, maps, and books giving you valuable information in reference to the country traversed by this great line from St. Paul, Minneapolis Duluth and Ashland to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma and Seattle, Washington, Territory, and enclose stamps for the new 1889 Rand McNally County map of Washington Territory, printed in colors. These union meetings have always been of great interest and profit to the members of the various societies. Every one is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

—Every one who appreciates a work of art should see the picture now on exhibition in A. T. Wilkin's art store window. The picture is the work of Miss Jennie Hayes, of the first ward. A tiger's lair in the jungle, is the scene. The peculiar light and shade of the picture, and the two ferocious looking tigers in the foreground produce an effect strikingly real. The picture is a credit to the artistic skill of Miss Hayes.

—Political candidates are getting in their work to an alarming extent, and the fight promises to be at least a warm one.—Recorder. This item certainly has no reference to the democratic candidate who left two kegs of beer to-day at one of our largest manufacturing institutions. The republican boys down there—and by the way they are most all republicans—are having a shop full of fun over it. The beer was removed to the office for safety.

—Mr. A. A. Greene, of Minneapolis, son-in-law of A. B. Carpenter, Esq., of Beloit, formerly a resident and for many years a well known boot and shoe dealer of the latter city, died at his home in Minneapolis a short time since of pleuretic pneumonia. Mr. Carpenter has just returned from Minneapolis accompanied by his daughter Mrs. Greene, and granddaughter Miss Florence Greene who will spend a few weeks at his home in Beloit. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in this city.

—At the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, April 3d, there will be a free stereopticon exhibition by Rev. Henry Porter, M. D., of a large number of views of Chinese scenery and life. Dr. Porter has been a missionary physician in China for the past seventeen years. He has about three hundred views and will give an interesting explanation of each one presented. All are invited, children and young people especially. The admission is free but there will be a collection at the close to defray expenses.

THE CONGREGATIONALISTS.

THEY ENTERTAIN THEIR FRIENDS WITH A LITERARY AND ICE CREAM FEAST.

The free entertainment last evening given by the young people of the Congregational society was well patronized. The literary part of the programme consisted of an opening solo by Mrs. Lewis. Following this Mr. James Bleasdale, of Beloit college, delivered his prize oration in a manner which held the closest attention of the audience. Miss Loa Smith, of Rockford, sang "The Two Grenadiers," in a charming manner and was obliged to respond to an encore. A violin solo by Mr. Garthwaite was well received. Miss Rustad concluded the evening's entertainment by singing, "An Angel's Serenade." Miss Rustad is a sweet singer.

Ice cream and cake in abundance followed, and every one voted the entertainment a success.

Friday evening, April 12th, the ladies will give an entertainment which they call Egglataire. The only way to find out what an Egglataire is will be to attend the entertainment and find out.

BAACK & M'KINSTRY.

THE FIRM WHO WILL CARRY ON THE OLD FOOTE & WILCOX ESTABLISHMENT.

This morning the trade was consummate by which Messrs. F. H. Baack and A. C. McKinstry became the proprietors of what was for so many years the Foote & Wilcox business. Mr. John Watson, the last proprietor, has reduced the stock to a minimum and Messrs. Baack & McKinstry will fill up the store with an entirely new line of ready made clothing and furnishing goods. These gentlemen come to Janesville from Geneva Lake where Mr. Baack has been the manager of the Colby clothing house for several years. Mr. Baack has been in every city in the state, of any size, in search of a location and has finally decided on Janesville as the most desirable. Success to the new firm.

THOSE UNHAPPY PERSONS who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic suffers. Price 25 cents.

Spring Styles.

VERY pale tints will run this spring.

A STYLISH bar coat is of white duck closed with frogs.

NOVELTIES in cameo stone for umbrella handles are worth looking up.

NATURE has to pave the way for the man who would look well in knee breeches.

VELVET collars on dress suits, a London fad in a small way, has not caught on here.

SOME of the new scarfs make a fellow as conspicuous as a highly polished name-plate on a shabby front door.

THE striped neglige shirts now made for the golden youth in his summer wanderings are said to discount the rainbow in color.

PARIS decrees that the white carnation is the button-hole flower for men under 30. Those beyond that age must wear a gardenia.

THE monogram, not the single initial, must now be embroidered twice upon the new table-cloth at a point half way from the center to each end.

LOOSE drooping clusters of heliotrope, or a bright jonquil or two, are now more decidedly chic with walking-gowns than the too common violets.

NEW jackets in all stuffs from velvet to water-proof will have long revers and inserted vests, usually of a color contrasting with the body of the garment.

HATS just out from Paris have crowns so low as to be almost invisible from the front. To restore proper balance the return of the chignon is loudly whispered.

THE delicate tones of the "art" brocades are especially suited to the swell tea-gowns, in which they are oftenest seen. The coppery shades of these have full fronts of soft shell-pink crape.

THE swell piazza costume for the summer outing of the society man will consist of a striped suit of either fine flannel serge or worsted, cut with sack coat and loose trousers, and worn with a gayly colored silk shirt with sash to match.

THE newest note paper, according to the season, is either striped or flowered all over its surface. The stripes of gold or silver are in relief and begin in the upper corner, while the roses, natural-colored violets, and forget-me-nots are simply strewn over its surface.

FOR large enveloping cloaks for carriage wear only there is an odd material brocaded in Oriental designs of varied colors. The patterns, as a rule, are small and effective. The fabric is generally known as "polychrome cloth," and is also used for boudoir decoration.

STATE BOARD OF PHARMACY.

Annual Meeting and Examination at Madison During the Week.

E. B. Heimstreet, of This City, Elected Secretary and Treasurer for the Seventh Term.

The State Board of Pharmacy concluded its annual session at Madison yesterday. On Tuesday afternoon the board visited the pharmacy department of the university, and examined the graduating class, sixteen in number.

The report of Secretary E. B. Heimstreet, shows that five meetings have been held during the year, viz: At Madison, Ashland, Palmyra, La Crosse and Milwaukee, at which 136 applied for examination, of this number 34 received full or licentiate, 6 grduate. and 63 second grade or assistant certicafites. Thirty-three persons were rejected, their papers falling below the required average. Since it went into effct (1882) 764 persons have attended the examination, of which number 322 have received first grade and 172 second grade or assistant certificates; 270 have been rejected.

The report also shows that the law is being generally complied with, and complaints and prosecutions have been less than usual, but eight cases being brought to trial during the year, in which the board was successful in seven and the other is still in court and will be settled in April. Two of the cases were against grocers selling Paris green, and in both the parties were fined. It is the intention of the board the coming year to push every case that comes to the notice of parties selling Paris green contrary to law.

The action of the board in receiving the certificates of other states without subjecting them to a second examination, has been highly commended, and a number of other states have already notified the secretary that they will receive the Wisconsin certificate without examination.

On Wednesday morning the board called to order at the Pharmacy department of the university, for the purpose of examination of candidates, which occupied the entire day. Thursday was spent in the examination of papers of applicants and certificates were ganted to five licentiates, and twenty-six assistants or second grade. the candidates being from all parts of the state.

On Friday the board elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—F. Robinson, Kenosha.

Secretary and Treasurer—E. B. Heimstreet, Janesville.

This is the seventh time Mr. Heimstreet has been honored by election to this responsible position, he having held the office, with the exception of one year, ever since the board was created. It is a compliment worthily bestowed, and no one takes a deeper interest in the matters pertaining to the advancement of the board and its interests that he.

The renewals were fixed at one dollar for full and 50 cents for assistants. No change was made in the examinations. The salary of secretary was fixed at $400, same to include office rent, fire, lights, and his bonds at $4,000. The meetings for the ensuing year were fixed as follows: Examinations on June 5 at Green Bay; Aug. 16, at Portage; Nov. 13, at Milwaukee.

Wisconsin has one of the best Pharmacy laws in the United States, and the board is to be congratulated on its work, there being but little or no fault found, and the results very gratifying. There are about 800 drug-stores in the state, and some 1,400 druggists and clerks.

Would you know the keen delight

One of our most estimable citizens may be thankful for the introduction of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, for its timely use has saved his life. For incipient consumption it is a certain remedy. Price 25 cents.

THE ASSEMBLY.

THEIR FIRST PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENT A SUCCESS.

The entertainment given by the Court Street Assembly at Court Street church last evening, was well patronized, and proved to be an enjoyable affair. The program consisted of recitations by Lou Fenton, Allen W. Dibble and J. B. Hayner. Miss Benedict gave one of her charming piano solos. A song by Percy Bonesteel was well received. Mr. Bonesteel is a very clever vocalist. Vocal solos were given by Mr. E. O. Kimberly and Mrs. Sweeney. They were both at their best and their music was highly appreciated by the audience. Miss Florence Dye sang a solo in her inimatable manner and was obliged to respond to an encore. This was Miss Dye's last appearance before a Janesville audience before she leaves for Iowa. Miss Dye has come to be one of our most popular singers, and her departure will be a great loss to the musical talent of our city.

After the entertainment, a full head of hot air was turned on, and ice cream and cake were served, and a general social time indulged in.

With teeth all stained and loose, I thought
That nothing could be begged or bought
To cure them, and I cried, in pain,
"O, would that they were good again!"
At last, let songs of praise go round,
A cure in SOZODONT I found!

A BRIEF SESSION.

Illinois Solons Occupy an Uninteresting Session.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 30.—There was quite a breeze in the House Friday morning over the report of the committee on canals, rivers, and commerce, in regard to the Secrest bill, giving county authorities the power to purchase or condemn dams in other counties where such dams cause overflow of lands. The committee, after investigating complaints of the citizens of Marseilles, had decided that this bill would in its operations work great injury to the mill-owners of that city, and had ordered an unfavorable report on the measure. Mr. Paddock took issue with the committee and insisted that Senator Secrest, the author of the bill, should have been heard before the unfavorable report was ordered. He therefore hoped that the bill would be read a first time, despite the report of the committee, and ordered to second reading for full discussion.

Mr. Merrit of Warren thought the report of the committee should be rejected, and moved that the bill be referred to the committee on judiciary. His motion was opposed by Mr. Cooley, and upon motion of the latter laid on the table. Mr. Paddock then moved to read the bill a first time and place it on the calendar for consideration, but this motion was also laid on the table.

Nearly 200 reports from committees were received, nearly the whole forenoon being consumed in this way. The roll was called for the last time this session for the introduction of bills, and several unimportant measures were taken up by unanimous consent and read a first time.

The Senate passed three bills without serious objection. They were Senator Hamer's bill to protect hotel keepers from being defrauded by dead-beats; Senator Burke's bill making the punishment for abduction imprisonment for any number of years or for life, and Senator Rienhardt's bill transferring the books and papers of the defunct City court of La Salle to the La Salle County Circuit court.

Senator Thomas' bill to permit the assignment of Circuit Judges for temporary duty in overcrowded Appellate courts, and Senator Berry's compulsory education bill were ordered to a third reading. The resolution prohibiting the introduction of any bill except committee bills after April 4 was adopted and the Senate adjourned.

When Macbeth ironically asked, "Canst thou minister to a mind diseased? he little knew that mankind would one day be blessed with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, this powerful alterative gives tone and strength to every function and faculty of the system.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 24 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 42 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 36 and 48 degrees above zero.

George T. Davis of Detroit is an Heir.

J. H. Dickerson a telegrapher, and George T. Davis of Detroit, Mich., each drew $15,000 on one-twentieth tickets of No. 5,882, which drew in the January, (1889,) drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery the prize of $300,000. Mr. Davis received $15,000 by the Southern Express Co. He is fifty-two years of age, and is transfer foreman of the Wabash road. This was his third dollar investment in the lottery, and he feels much elated. Three relatives died during the past year leaving him an aggregate of $14,000 so that now he is rich.—Detroit (Mich.) Sunday Sun, Feb. 3,

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Let Every Republican in the City Support it Next Tuesday.

And Elect the Entire Ticket by an Old Time Majority.

It is generally conceded that the republican city and ward tickets are unusually strong, and if the party takes interest enough to vote at the polls next Tuesday, every candidate will be elected.

D. P. SMITH,

the candidate for mayor, is a man above reproach, possessing the ability to preside in the council chamber to the satisfaction of all good citizens, and having the courage and determination to see that the provisions of the charter are properly observed. Every republican in the city should give him their hearty support and insure his election.

P. S. FENTON

for city clerk, will command the respect and endorsement of his party. Mr. Fenton has served the city in the capacity of clerk for the past two years, and his re-election is not an experiment. That he will retain the position is not a question of doubt.

DR E. E. LOOMIS

for school commissioner at large adds strength to the ticket. The doctor is an old resident of the city, and has long enjoyed the confidence of a host of friends, who will be glad of an opportunity to honor him with a position in the board of education. He is thoroughly endowed with the qualifications necessary to the faithful discharge of the duties of this important office and will honor the position to which he has been called.

JOHN BROWN

for street commissioner is recognized as a very popular candidate. His experience in the office qualifies him for the work, and he will discharge its duties acceptably. While the fight for this office is three cornered, Mr. Brown will be elected.

GEO. DAVY,

the candidate for sealer of weights and measures, needs no introduction to the readers of the Gazette; always an active and consistent republican he will command the vote of the party.

OSCAR D. ROWE

for alderman of the first ward, is a strong candidate. Mr. Rowe has long been connected with the tobacco industry; he is an active, wide a wake business man and his presence in the council will be recognized and appreciated. The republicans of the first ward will be glad to support Mr. Rowe, and he should be elected by an old time majority.

J. C. METCALF

for school commissioner, will be his own successor to this office. Mr. Metcalf's experience in the school board makes him a valuable member. He enjoys the confidence and highest regard of the people in the ward where he has so long resided. His election is assured.

W. F. CARLE,

supervisor of the first ward for so many years, will continue to serve the city in this important position. Mr. Carle's ability is recognized and appreciated. The county board needs more such men; there is no office in the city where business methods and business tact are in better demand. Mr. Carle possesses both in a rare degree, and his integrity and candor inspire confidence. Mr. Carle should be kept in the board just so long as he can be induced to stay.

JOHN W. CARPENTER,

the first ward candidate for constable, is a good nomination. Mr. Carpenter is an efficient officer, and will be elected.

JOHN THOROUGHGOOD.

In the second ward the republicans have place in nomination Mr. John Thoroughgood for alderman. Mr. Thoroughgood has already served one term of two years in the common council, representing the second ward. During his term of alderman he was ever active and untiring in his efforts to improve the ward, and it was owing largely to his activity and enterprise that the Fourth avenue bridge was built, an improvement that not only benefited the people of the second ward, but the city as well. Mr. Thoroughgood will be elected by a good majority, and with his past experience in the city council will make one of the best representatives.

O. F NOWLAN.

Mr. O. F. Nowlan is again re-nominated for supervisor in the second ward Mr. Nowlan is now one of the oldest members of the county board, perfectly conversant with the business of the county, having served on several of the most important committees and taking an active and leading position on all county questions. The people of the second ward will retain his services in the county board will be re-elected constable in the second ward, with practically no opposition. He is a first class officer and possesses the confidence of the people.

C. S. JACKMAN.

In the third ward Mr. C. S. Jackman will be the next alderman; he will be elected to succeed Ald. James A. Fathers, who declined to allow his name to be used, having served two terms. Mr. Jackman is too well known among the business people of Janesville to require an extended newspaper notice at this time. He has a large property interest in the city, is a thorough-going, competent young man, familiar with municipal affairs, and no better man can be found to represent the third ward.

OGDEN H. FETHERS, ESQ.

is the candidate for school commissioner, and should be unanimously elected, as no man is better qualified.

FENNER KIMBALL

one of the veterans of the county board of supervisors, and one of its ablest members, will be returned by a good majority. Mr. Kimball for several years has been a member of the committee of the county charitable institutions, and has taken much pains and careful study to better the conditions of the unfortunates. His experience is of great value to the county.

T. L. ACHESON

will go in as constable almost unknown to his opponent, should he have one. The. is one of the best.

MR. ADAM SANNER.

The republicans of the fourth ward have placed Mr. Adam Sanner in the race for alderman. Mr. Sanner is a popular, hard working man, has resided in Janesville for many years and takes a commondable pride in his home. He is a fair man, consequently has many friends and no enemies. Besides he possesses the necessary knowledge of city affairs to faithfully represent this ward in the council chamber, to which position his friends in the fourth ward propose to elect him.

MR. A. H. SHELDON,

of the firm of Hanchett & Sheldon, hardware dealers, will be the next supervisor from the fourth ward. This will be no new office for Mr. Sheldon as he has represented that ward in the county board in previous years, and made an excellent member.

MR. JOHN F. DRAKE

will be returned to his old position of constable, an office which he has filled so long and so satisfactorily to the people.

With an overwhelming democratic majority to contend with in the fifth ward, the republicans will not present a party ticket in that precinct, and as no leading democrat has mentioned anything about an independent candidate for constable, the republicans will probably show no opposition, but vote the straight city ticket with such ward candidates as they choose.

The republicans enter the spring campaign in perfect harmony and good cheer, confident that they have the best ticket in the field, and are enthusiastic in the belief that they will win in Tuesday's contest.

SOCIAL CHAT.

Farewell bachelor dinners have not been heard of as much this as in former seasons.

In these days the woman alienated from her husband is quite a society heroine among the people who only believe one of the two stories.

Afternoon teas will decrease soon. The final entertainments of the season will be large and pretentious affairs, much stronger than Oolong.

Letters from Americans abroad tell of more engagements that will result in international marriages before the autumn turns the leaves again.

A great deal of ducal gossip rages now in fashionable circles and comes over from the other side of the ocean in what could be called prize packages.

A much larger number of "prominent people" would go regularly to church if the service included gratuitous refreshments and distribution of favors.

So-called "very quiet" weddings mean anything this side of 500 invited guests and possibly twice that number of indignant folk socially frozen out, so to speak.

There was lurking in the advertisement for the return of a sealskin sacque recently a story about how it was purloined from a private house on the occasion of a large reception.

How a woman supported by a husband with whom she does not choose to live can go dashing about society as jolly and gay as a sailor ashore from a long voyage is a social problem.

Disciples of Vanity Fair who were under scandal's cloud at the beginning of the season are out again prancing about as gay and lively as if there had never been a great fire in Moscow!

Women of good taste are not carrying their live pets to the opera boxes as much this as last season, although somebody discovered a cat behind the plush curtain there the other night.

No particular instruction would appear to be needed for the present style of society dancing. It is ten miles from elegance and twenty from gracefulness, but the couples go around just the same.

All the tittle-tattles say that the woman who fainted at Mrs. Thingumbob's dinner party the other night had eaten too much and was laced too tight. The men say she didn't faint until after the terrapin had been served.

Husbands seem to be less essential in society affairs this season than ever, and this may be why so many of them seek for consolation at their club or somewhere else. Wives who repudiate husbands, and who boast of their indifference to them, are never desirable women in New York—or in New Zealand.
